PREFACE.

This general catalogue is based upon the one issued in 1887, which was prepared under the auspices of the Salem Normal Association by Mrs. Mary N. (Plumer) Hawken, of the fourteenth class, for many years a teacher in the school. Fresh information has been sought on every hand, by every device that could be thought of and from all available sources; still it is known to be very incomplete, and undoubtedly it contains numerous errors. Its publication may bring into the hands of the principal of the school many corrections, which will be welcomed for the card index of former students. This may be made very valuable if the desired co-operation can be secured.

Most of the clerical work upon this catalogue has been done by Miss Fannie B. Deane, a member of the eighty-seventh class, who is now the secretary of the school and an assistant teacher. Valuable information has been received from many sources, notably from Mrs. Hawken, who is mentioned above, from Mrs. Elizabeth W. (Richards) Horton, of the first class, from Miss Ellen M. Dodge, of the third class, and from others too numerous to be mentioned.

STUDENTS OF THE SCHOOL.

In the list of students, the full name at the time of entrance appears, followed by the residence. In giving residences the present names of places are employed when changes have been made.

G denotes graduation from the regular course; Adv. G signifies graduation also from the advanced course; C shows the bestowal of a certificate for a special one year's course; L indicates that the student left school without any of the above-named distinctions.

The names of husbands follow when known. The last item is the present residence, provided authentic evidence of a change since the time of entrance is at hand. College degrees, and occupations other than teaching, are given when known.

An asterisk (*) following the name indicates the death of the person, and the year of death, when known, is given.

In a few cases unmarried persons are now known by a name varying somewhat from the name at entrance; when this fact has come to notice, the present name, in parentheses, follows the residence.
